

To Whom it May Concern,

Ever since I could walk, my passion growing up was to be a famous actress. Whenever I have free time or when I get back home from school, my sibling always watches tv or plays video games. On the other hand, I go to my room and act in front of my pets or look in the mirror and practice and then perform it for my parents. I don't stop practicing acting pieces that I made up, I find online or ones that I am given to practice. I work hard until I memorize and nail that piece.

When I act, I get to be someone else and forget about anything in the world that is bothering me. As I grow up, I strive to be a pro in front of the cameras. I will not give up trying until I reach my goal of being a famous actress. When I was 8, I auditioned for a short segment on CBC Kids, Studio K. I got chosen out of many kids and I was SO proud of myself! That was the first ever acting gig I got in my life! At school, I always participate in plays and dancing competitions. I always try my best to get the lead role but all roles are important and fun to act out. I ask for the script to bring home and I practice, practice, practice as practice makes perfect and acting is fun!

Thank you,
