To whom it may concern,

Liam is an adorable, happy kid with an infectious smile. You can't see him smile and not smile back. He is very friendly and is not afraid to say hi to people. He loves to play pretend, acting like a youtuber. He practices Tae Kwon Do and gymnastics, and loves to swim. He understands Japanese a little bit. He would be a great model/ actor, with his positive attitude and brave, outgoing personality. He loves to get attention and he will be the first one to stand up and dance when there is a dance party. You will see a bright kid that is happy to do something new.

Thank you,
