Thank you for your time!!

Hello Everyone,

I am thrilled to have the opportunity to showcase myself to you all. For as long as I can remember, which isn't very long, I have loved to make others laugh and I quickly learned that an easy way to do so was by making funny voices. That joy I felt seeing other people happy was electric. It made my want to learn other ways to do so. So I started to dress up and use my sister's makeup to add personality. But it wasn't just my family at home, it was my friends at school, my teachers at my after school classes, even strangers on the train. A smile is a smile and to my it was worth gold. Soon I was creating characters or mimicking the ones I saw on my tv and I thought why couldn't I be on tv? Instead of just being able to make the people i saw around my happy, I hope to be able to reach people all over the world and make them smile. To me that's a pretty special thing that is only possible if you see it that way as well. Thank you again for your time.

Sincerely,
Phoenix Kellier
