

Adelia King

Hey! My name is Adelia King and I'm thirteen years old! I enjoy playing video games, such as Fortnite and Minecraft. I also love helping animals. Another thing I like to do is creating stories and acting them out with my toys and my siblings. My family says I have a creative and witty personality.

I love building houses and things in minecraft. My siblings and I created restaurants, a mall, and I made my house in the shape of an ender dragon! We also love to battle each other in fortnite. Fortnite also has many different skins to choose from. My siblings and I like to choose fun skins and act as those characters.

I love helping all kinds of animals. For example I've rescued a kitten, and an opossum! I rescued the kitten out of a tree at our local library, and found it a new home. I found the opossum by his deceased mother, outside of my home. Then contacted a sanctuary to nurture and rehabilitate him.

I like writing stories about adventure and romance. My current novel I'm writing is about a woman trying to escape her abusive husband with a secret life. To get my imagination flowing I like to reenact my stories with my barbies and sometimes siblings (when appropriate).

If at first you don't succeed, skydiving is not for you. That's why I chose acting.
