Why do I want to become an actress? Well, there are many reasons why. The first one being that this has been my dream since I was 4 years old, auditioning for my very first musical. I also have looked up to so many people in this industry. Acting has always been my strong suit, and I have always been able to feel authentically myself, while living in my character's life. My characters have helped me grow up, in a way. I feel like I have learned so many life lessons through characters I play in theater and musicals, and the read-throughs I have done for auditions before.

Why acting and not something else? Acting is my comfort place. I have always been able to clear my mind better when I'm acting, or singing because I can get lost in the characters. Acting is my passion, and my biggest dream, but I'm working towards making this a reality. Thank you for considering me, and helping me get closer to my dream.

Sincerely,
